PUMPKINS and SQUASH

Sugar Pumpkin

This versatile pumpkin is a convenient size, beautiful color, and can be used for both decorating and cooking. Its dark, sweet flesh makes perfect pumpkin pies, and its smooth, lightly ribbed exterior is perfect for arts and crafts.

Cinderella Pumpkin

A unique French heirloom reminiscent of Cinderella's fairytale coach. Its thick, sweet flesh is excellent for cooking, and its unique shape provides for creative decorating and carving.

Fairytale Pumpkin (Musque De Provence)

Originating in France, this classic pumpkin sports a deeply ribbed, smooth exterior. Its mottled colors of tan and green are ideal for decorating any home.

Blue Jarrahdale Pumpkin

This Australian native is deeply ribbed with a bluish-gray exterior and golden orange flesh. It boasts a nutty and sweet flavor perfect for fall cooking.

Turks Turban Squash

Shaped like a turban, this unique, edible gourd is streaked with orange, white, red and green.

Cheese Pumpkin

Another baker's favorite this pumpkin's deep orange flesh makes succulent pies. This stunning pumpkin is also the longest lasting, providing endless fall color for your decorating needs.

Peanut Pumpkin

A picture is worth a thousand words in this case. Fun, eye-catching conversation pieces, peanut pumpkins work well as a centerpiece or in an arrangement.

Turban Squash

Red-orange with green and white accents, this pumpkin has a nutty, sweet, deep orange flesh with a mealy texture. Great for pies.

Field Pumpkin

Thick skin, perfect for carving. Available in 36" graphic bins, sized from 20CT to 60CT.

Blue Hubbard Squash

Originating in New England, this blue-gray squash hides bright orange flesh within. The outer hue also makes for a great contrast in fall decorations. One of the longest lasting winter squashes, its color is a great addition to fall decor, and it's delicious in soups and other dishes.

Hubbard Squash - Golden or Black

These tear-drop shaped squash are anything but ordinary. The Red Hubbard, the larger of the two, is purely ornamental, sporting a deep orange exterior complemented by rustic white stripes. The Black Hubbard provides a deep black, heavily textured exterior, and is excellent for cooking.

Striped Cushaw - Orange or Green

This squash features a bulbous base with a curved neck. The smallest of the Cushaws, its white skin is decorated with prominent green or orange stripes. These attractive gourds will be the highlight of your autumn decorations. They're also great for cooking!

★ Edible

Flatso Pumpkin

Flatso has a very unique look with its very flat oval shape that resembles an orange version of the Long Island Cheese pumpkin. It's a 6-8 lbs fruit measuring approximately 9-10" in diameter by 5-6" in height and has a bright orange color and moderate ribbing.

Butterkin

Shaped like a small flat pumpkin, Butterkin weighs 2-4 pounds and measures 6-7.5 inches in diameter. Butterkin has sweet and buttery flavors with an intensely thick and vibrant orange flesh making it the perfect addition to soups, pastas, pies, and salads great for baking, roasting, and steaming.

Soup Pumpkin

Soup Pumpkin is a true pumpkin, it has a tough hard shell much like an ornamental gourd and is not carveable. Its shelf life extends well into the spring, and it has a hard, smooth shell that is great for painting or as a soup bowl pumpkin.
